Subject: Proposal for a Decision of the European Parliament and of the Council concerning the establishment and operation of a market stability reserve for the Union greenhouse gas emission trading scheme and amending Directive 2003/87/EC
- Further consideration of the EP amendments

With a view to the meeting of the Working Party on the Environment (WPE) on 16 March 2015, delegations will find in the Annex a revised four-column document on the above-mentioned proposal. The document contains in its first, second and third columns, respectively, the Commission proposal, the outcome of the vote held in the ENVI Committee on 24 February 2015, and Presidency suggestions for a Council position, as revised following discussions at the WPE on 10 March 2015. The fourth column contains additional comments by the Presidency on the EP amendments. With respect to the text in the third column, delegations are invited to note that changes to the Commission proposal are underlined and the latest Presidency proposals compared to doc. 6713/15 are bold and underlined. (2) The report from the Commission to the European Parliament and the Council on the state of the European carbon market in 2102⁷ identified the need for measures in order to tackle structural supply-demand imbalances. The impact assessment on the 2030 climate and energy policy framework⁸ indicates that this imbalance is expected to continue, and would not be sufficiently addressed by adapting the linear trajectory to a more stringent target within this framework. A change in the linear factor only changes gradually the cap. Accordingly, the surplus would also only gradually decline, such that the market would have to continue to operate for more than a decade with a surplus of around 2 billion allowances or more. In order to address this problem and to make the European Emission Trading System more resilient to imbalances, a market stability reserve should be established. (3) Furthermore, in addition to the establishment of the market stability reserve, a few consequential amendments should be made to Directive 2003/87/EC to ensure consistency and smooth operation of the ETS. In particular, the operation of Directive 2003/87/EC may lead to large volumes of allowances to be auctioned at the end of each trading period which can undermine market stability. The European Council conclusions of 23 and 24 October 2014 on the 2030 Climate and Energy Policy Framework gave clear guidance on the continuation of free allocations and carbon leakage provisions after 2020 and state that "the most efficient installations in the sectors at risk of losing international competitiveness should not face undue carbon costs leading to carbon leakage".
